

6 Companies : 30 Days Challenge

Arsh Goyal, in collaboration with CSI Student Branch MUST, launched the "6 Companies : 30 Days Challenge with Arsh Goyal" on 1st January 2024. This ground breaking initiative is meticulously designed to enhance participants' problem-solving skills and prepare them for esteemed software developer roles, internships, and full-time positions within the tech industry.

This collaboration reflects a synergistic effort to empower students with invaluable insights and guidance. This challenge included frequently asked questions in company's coding round. By leveraging the expertise and resources of both entities, the challenge aimed to foster a supportive and conducive environment for skill development and career advancement.

Over the course of 30 days, the challenge tackled 90 to 100 of the most crucial DSA problems commonly encountered in interviews. Participants who successfully completed the challenge, received a plethora of benefits, including referrals, priority interview calls, surprise gifts, and an exclusive opportunity for 1-1 mentorship with Arsh Goyal.

The challenge was meticulously organized, demanding participants to tackle 90 questions within a set timeframe. These questions were categorized systematically, with each company's set consisting of 15 questions. Regular updates were provided every 5 days, ensuring participants stayed on track. This structured methodology facilitated a thorough exploration of crucial DSA concepts and promoted efficient problem-solving techniques.

The challenge welcomed participation from college students of all academic levels, professionals aiming for career shifts, and individuals dedicated to enhancing their tech skills. Participants were encouraged to store their solutions in the designated "Notes" section or create a GitHub Repository labeled #ReviseWithArsh #6Companies30Days Challenge. Moreover, they were urged to publicly announce their commitment to the challenge on various social media platforms using the hashtags #6Companies30Days #ReviseWithArsh.

In essence, Arsh Goyal's 6 Companies 30 Days Challenge, in collaboration with CSI Student Branch MUST, represented a concerted effort to equip participants with the necessary skills and resources for success in the competitive tech industry. This collaborative initiative underscored a shared commitment to fostering excellence and innovation in the realm of software development and engineering.
